The SACE Board of SA is introducing electronic examinations for the first time in 2018 as part of the ongoing modernisation of the SACE. Stage 2 English Literary Studies students will be the first to use it when they sit their examination on November 7.

Moving to electronic examinations will provide better examinations that are more authentic and relevant for students.

The SACE Board is working closely with schools, students and the Association of Independent Schools of South Australia, Catholic Education South Australia, the Department for Education and Child Development, and the Northern Territory Department of Education to implement electronic examinations.

Further information and regular updates can be located from the SACE website www.sace.sa.edu.au
